ENDODONTIC Re-Treatment

This two day hands-on course is aimed at GDP's who would like to take their endodontic skills to the next level.

The course is designed for the practitioner who wishes to extend the type of treatments provided and move their endodontic skills to the next level and will begin with a seminar on the aetiology of endodontic failure, assessment and diagnosis of failed root canal treatment. Treatment options and planning for treatment. Preparation and obturation difficulties in re-treatment cases.

Magnification is essential in re-treatment cases for visualisation of the canals and each delegate will have the exclusive use of an operating microscope to treat cases in hands on exercises. The remainder of day one will be occupied by practical exercises to remove GP, Thermanfil and silver points on extracted teeth.

Ultrasonic instruments have been developed specifically for use in endodontic re-treatment and for removal of retained instruments, their use will be described and will be available for use by delegates.

Day two will begin with a seminar on the management of coronal obstructions and post removal. Further hands on exercises and perforation repair will occupy much of day two.

At the end of the course we will review the outcomes of treatment, the risks and benefits and discuss the merits of orthograde treatment versus apical micro-surgery.

We believe that the dental nurse is an essential part of the team and particularly when working with a microscope is even more important to the successful outcome of treatments and we therefore offer a free place on the course to your DSA.

What previous delegates have said ...

Thoroughly Recommended

Dr Justin Dinley, Bournemouth

This Schottlander course is a must for all general dental practitioners with an interest in endodontics.

What is learnt from the course provides the clinician with the confidence to treat and re-treat molar teeth, an area where practitioners lose money by referral to specialist endodontist.

I feel that this course was probably the most informative, enjoyable and value for money course I have ever done.

The course has inspired me to take part in an Msc in endodontics. I would thoroughly recommend this course to any general dental practitioner.

Both Rewarding & Interesting

Dr Bradley Abrahams, Stevenage

I attended this course with my DSA and we both found it to be a very interesting and rewarding experience.

The effort made by Godfrey Cutts and James Prichard in breaking off posts, screws and files in extracted teeth prior to the course showed true dedication. We all enjoyed the use of clinical microscopes and learned techniques which made the hitherto impossible just about possible.

I thoroughly recommend this course.

Very Enjoyable Course

Dr Capel Pritchard, Endodontic Specialist, Leicester

There are very few courses I have enjoyed so much that I regret when they are over - this was one of them.

The course was presented by two very accomplished speakers with obvious exceptional endodontic skills. The aim of the course was to understand the aetiology of endodontic failure and, on a practical basis, to be able to deal with all the difficulties encountered using hands-on techniques.

Your dental nurse was encouraged to attend the course at no extra cost, and this proved invaluable for both of us.

I can thoroughly recommend this course for anyone involved with endodontic re-treatment or anyone who has a passion for endodontics.

Course Content is Excellent

Dr Kirsten Macpherson, Droitwich

I had been looking out for an advanced endodontic course for many months, so I was delighted to attend Schottlanders endodontic retreatment course for dentists and nurses given by two very experienced endodontists Godfrey Cutts and James Prichard.

My nurse and I found the course content excellent. Both speakers were superb and very approachable. There was plenty of time for one to one tuition. Following the course I am now using a microscope and endosonics for all my root treatments and now feel comfortable treating many of the cases I was previously referring to an endodontist.

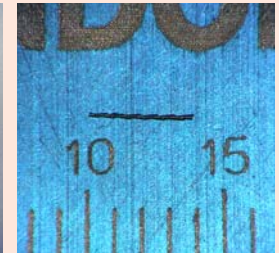

Aims, Objectives & Anticipated Outcomes

By the end of the course the participants should:

- a) be better at assessment, diagnosis and prognosis and treatment planning.
- b) have improved your technique of the removal of gutta percha, thermafil, silver points, separated instruments and posts from extracted teeth.
- c) be better at perforation repair.
- d) have learnt how to better use an operating microscope, Satelec P5 Newtron unit and required instruments.

At the conclusion of the course it is anticipated that each dentist will have treated at least two teeth.

The presenters ...

Godfrey Cutts LDS Dunelm

Godfrey graduated from the Sutherland Dental School, Newcastle upon Tyne in 1961. In general practice as a GDP in Nuneaton Warwickshire with a special interest in endodontics. He has a successful endodontic referral practice to which practitioners from some fifty miles around refer patients for initial treatments, re-treatments and apical micro-surgery. Has held posts with Oasis Dental Care as Clinical Director and Clinical Advisor. For the past five years Godfrey has been holding hands-on courses for GDP's at venues around the country with a special focus on solutions to everyday endodontic situations.

James Prichard MSc BDS LDSRCS MFGDP DRDP

Dr James Prichard was born and raised in Coventry, and qualified at the Royal London Hospital in 1994. He subsequently returned to general practice in Coventry and since then has established a successful referral centre taking advanced endodontic and restorative cases from other Dentists. He is a nationally renowned teacher in both Endodontics and Restorative Dentistry, delivering hands on courses and lectures throughout the UK. His most recent appointments are as Associate Clinical Teacher and Clinical Supervisor in Endodontics on the Masters Programme at Warwick University. James has also demonstrated the latest advances in dental technology for Schottlander at the Dental Showcases since 2004. James gained his Masters Degree (MSc) in Restorative Dentistry with distinction from the Eastman Dental Hospital and also holds BDS; LDSRCS; MFGDP; DRDP qualifications, and in November 2011 was awarded his Fellowship from The International Academy of Dental Facial Esthetics in New York.
